Complaint was made to Henry Bergh by Captain Gunner a few days ago that P. T. Barnum was practising cruelty toward animals in permitting the act designated on the play-bills as that of "the fire norse Salamander" to be performed. In answer Mr. Barnum invited be performed. In answer Mr. Barnum invited Mr. Baran to be present yester lay afternoon. Mr. Bergh did not come, but Mr. Hatfield, superintendent of his society, accompanied by seven officers and a platcon of police under Captain Gunner, was close by the ring. Mr. Barnum made a speech in part as follows:

close by the ring. Mr. Barnum made a speech in part as follows:

Friends. I am now seventy years of age, and have been catering to the public amusement for forty-eight years, and this is the first time I have been threatened with imprisonment and trial by jury. Long before Mr. Bergh was known to be connected with the scoriety of which he is now president, I subscribed to a similar society in London, of which Queen Victoria was the patron. I am a member of a socrety in Bridgeport to prevent eracity to animals. I have learned and know more about animals than Mr. Bergh knows. Years aco Mr. Bergh demanded that I should furnish my rhimoseros with a tank of water, when any inciplent school boy knows that water would have killed it. In 1866 Mr. Bergh frightened my manager into sending the snakes to New-Jersey to be fed. The manager told him that they must get their toads, lizards, etc., alive, though they crushed and killed them instantly. On my return I ordered live food to be given the snakes. When Mr. Bergh heard of this I received from him a letter, from which I have taken the following extract:

"It may be urared that the reptiles will not eat dead food. In reply to this I have only to say, then let them staree, for it is contrary to the merelful providence of God that wrong should be committed in order to accompilsh a supposed right."

My animals are all valuable, and self-interest demands their protection. In conclusion, I will say that Mr. Bergh or I must run this show, and I think I am the most used to the business. Should I be arrested. I would make him warmer than he has ever been in the past, and probably will ever be in the future.

The horse Salamander was afterward brought in and the hoops were set blazing. Mr. Barnum put past, and probably will ever no in the future.

The horse Salamander was afterward brought in and the hoops were set blazing. Mr. Barnum put his hand in one of them and then jumped through the fisming hoop, and was followed by his ten clowas. The horse was then ordered by the trainer to jump through, which he did in a thoroughly matter-of-fact, careless manner, as if he cared nothing for it. Superintendent Hatfield then, at Mr. Barnum's request, placed his hands in the hoops and held them there for a few seconds without burning them. Mr. Hatfield said that, so far as he could see, no cruelty was practised toward the horse.

PLAIN TALK ABOUT THE REFUGEES.

A COMMITTEE OF INQUIRY FINDS MUCH TO CONDEMN.
The General Relief Committee for the Arkansas refugees met yesterday in the rooms of the Young Men's Union Christian Association, at No. 122 West Twenty-aixtl-st. The committee, consisting of T.
T. B. Reed, T. S. P. Miller, C. F. Jones, the Rev. D.
W. Wi her and C. F. Lawson, which was appointed at a prayious meeting to look into the condition of the refugees and to recommend what action the society should take, reported that the refugees, although cared for by the General Relief Committee, refused to listen to the suggestions of the committee and were controlled by the agents of the American or Liberian Colonization Society. Eight families, numbering about forty persons, preferred not to go to Liberia. They wish to remain idle, however, and live on charity until their friends had gone. There were others who would like to remain here, but were ashamed to withdraw now. Three of the men'were known to have money, and one, MeDuffy, had been seen counting a large roll of bills. The "moneyed men" of the party are very selfish in their demands and very impudent. One of them had threatened to thrash the superintendent who has charge of those at Mount Olivet Chapel. They were so lazy that they refused to make up their own beds or to wait on each other. Some of them had been caught stealing. They had now a large quantity of meat which they refused to use. One of them even offered to sell 100 pounds of bacon to the superintendent.

The committee recommended that no fur-them even offered to sell 100 pounds of bacon to the superintendent.

The committee recommended that no furfurther subscriptions for their aid be solicited, and that no further aid be extended to those who had money, as they did not need any assistance and had refused to help those who were poorer than themselves. Those of the refugees who were to remain in this country should be made to go to work, while those who persisted in going to Liberia, if they had money, should take care of themselves. Speeches were made by the Rev. Charles B. Ray, Dr. T. S. P. Miller and others favoring the adoption of the report. This was opposed by the Rev. William F. Dickerson and the Rev. J. S. Attwell, and the report was referred back to the committee for revision, with instructions to cut out that part of the report reflecting on the fugitives.

PROTECTION AGAINST QUACKS.

The New-York State Medical Society, through a committee of which Dr. Henry G. Piffard is chairman, has sent to the Legislature an "Act to Regulate the Licensing of Physicians and Surgeons." This provides that no person under twenty-one years of age shall practise medicine; that every person now lawfully engaged in the practice shall, on or before October I, and every person thereafter authorized to practise, shall, before beginning to practise, register in the County Clerk's office, under eath, his name, residence and place of birth, together with his authority for entering the profession; and that a person coming from another State must have his diploma approved by the faculty of some regularly incorporated medical school in this State. The penalty for violation of this act is fine or imprisonment, or both, and the person making the complaint is to receive one-half the fine.

Dr. Piffard said last evening to a Trinune reporter that of over 25,000 persons now practising medicine in this State, fully one-fourth had either a bought diploma or none at all. There were in the United States iffeen or twenty medical colleges that sold their diplomas, and the crime was on the increase. Most of the surrounding States have enacted laws against these men, and thus they were driven into New-York. Illinois got rid of 14.000 in one year, and in so doing found 400 bogus diplomas. In New-York it was now lawful for any one to practise medicine who had a diploma from any medical college in the world, or a license from any chartered medical society in the world. The object of the act proposed was not to interfere with any one now legally practising, but to prevent quacks from coming into the State.

CONSIDERING THE CITY'S INTERESTS.

CONSIDERING THE CITY'S INTERESTS.

The Council of Reform met last evening at No.
48 East Twenty-third-st, to consider certain bills at present before the Legislature which concern the interests of this city. The chair was occupied by William H. Webb, and among those present were Edward Fitch. T. P. Wentworth, J. W. Hawes, J. C. Sanders, Joseph Haight, G. M. Williams, Hiram Merritt, J. P. Foster, J. M. Requa, Willy Wallach and Joseph Schack.

The provisions of the bill introduced in the Assembly by I. I. Hayes for facilitating the widening of West-st. were considered at length, and a resolution instructing the legislative committee to urge the passage of the bill by all proper means was adopted. A resolution was passed declaring that the Assembly bill relating to the Department of Dooks, as reported by the Committee of the Assembly on Affairs of Cities, is an unwarrantable and unjustifiable substitute for the original bill referred to the committee; and one which if adopted will substantially defeat the salutary objects and purposes intended to be accomplished by the original bill. It is also declared that the provisions of the substitute in effect permit the continuation of the gross abuses which have been here-tofore perpetrated in the management of the Dock Department. Another resolution, objecting to the Senate bill for enlarging and rebuilding Washington Market, and instructing the Committee on Legislation to oppose its passage, was adopted. ion to oppose its passage, was adopted.

DECLINE IN BREADSTUFFS.

DECLINE IN BREADSTUFFS.

The breadstuffs markets were considerably excited yesterday with a further decline from Saturday's prices, causing no little anxiety among members of the Produce Exchange as to when and how the present movement would culminate. Flour was from 10 to 20 cents below the closing prices of Saturday, and wheat from 3 to 4 cents lower. Corn and cats were also similarly affected. The decline yesterday was caused by unfavorable cable reports from Europe of the unsettled state of the markets, and the determination of buyers to hold off from further dealings until the American markets become more settled. Considerable apprehension was expressed among some of the members of the Exchange as to the effect the present decline will have unless it is soon checked. It was stated that some firms were now nearly at the limit of their margins, and that disastrous results may octor within the next few days. ear within the next few days.

TOM THUMB AT THE AQUARIUM. The entertainment at the Aquarium last night included the first appearance of General Tom Thumb and his wife and Major Newell. A performance by the "Man Fish" was received with much applause. He performed many difficult feats under the water. Signor Giovann's exhibition of the accomplishments of his trained birds was singular and interesting, the birds showing the results of the most careful training. General Tom Thumb contributed his share of the entertainment by an imitation of Napoleon and a comic patriolic speech. Major Newell's clog dance on parlor skates was freely appliended.

PROPOSING TO KILL HIS FAMILY. John McCarthy, of Nostrand-ave, and Koscinsko-te, Brooklyn, went home yesterday noon, greatly lianpointed at not being able to obtain work, and said that he was going to kill himself, but first, in order to prevent any destitution in his family, he would kill his wife and children. His wife con-scaled his pistol, and after scarching for it in vain, he went after an axe. Mrs. McCarthy then had him arrested, and Justice Walsh committed him to the joil for examination.

Lovetand in tow. The Lovetand sailed from Messina, with a cargo of fruit, on February 1, for New-York, in cemmand of Captain Bastrop. On April 8 she was spoken in Latitude 49° north, longitude 63° west by the bark Hanna, with loss of foretonast. On the morning of April 17 she was sighted, dismasted and apparently abandoned, by the steamship Thanemore. It was blowing a moderate gale at the time, and a high sea was running, but two officers and four sailors of the steamer volunteered to rescue the bark's crew if they were still on board. A boat was sent to the vessel, and afterward, with considerable difficulty, she was taken in tow and brought to this port.

The bark's crew had taken all their clothing, charts, chronometers and nautical instruments when they abandoned her. With the exception of the loss of her masts she was in good condition.

RAPID TRANSIT IN STATEN ISLAND.

RAPID TRANSIT IN STATEN ISLAND.

The annual outburst of opposition to the ferry companies which monopolize the traffic between Staten Island and New-York seems this year to have resulted in something more than mere talk. On Wednesday last a stock company, to be known as the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad Company, was incorporated by a number of prominent residents of the Island. The prime mover in the scheme and president of the board of directors is Erastus Wiman, of Dun, Barlow & Company; the other directers, all residents of the Island, are W. W Macfarland, J. F. Emmons, Adolfo Hegewisch, E. Norton, Frederick White, R. B. Whittemore, William Krebs, John D. Vermeule, I. K. Martin, George Bechtel, William H. Pendleton and Adolph King. Theodore E. Leeds, of No. 102 Broadway, is secretary. The capital is $500.000, divided into 5,000 shares of $100 cach, payable in ten monthly instalments of $10 cach. Bonds to the amount of $500.000 will also be issued.

It is proposed to concentrate the ferry traffic in one ferry, from the foot of Hyart-st. New Brighton, employing three boats, which will make trips every 20 minutes. This is the point of the Island nearest to New-York, and the time required for the direct passage is less than 20 minutes. From the ferry there will be constructed along the shore in both directions a steam surface road, trains running west to Port Richmond and south to Clifton, connecting with every boat. The track, which will be double part of the way, will rest upon a sea wall, built between high and low water mark. There will be a station about every half mile, and stations, cars and engines will be very similar to those now in use on the Sixth Avenue Elevated Road, It is expected that this portion of the road, over six miles in length, will be completed by January next, and by the opening of the next Summer season an extension of the southern branch to Cedar Grove will be ready. The track will pass around old Fort Richmond on piles, making a graceful sweep out into the Narrows, and thence

BURIAL OF THE REV. DR. OSGOOD. The funeral of the Rev. Dr. Samuel Osgood who died at his house in West Eleventh-st. on [Wed

The funeral of the Rev. Dr. Samnel Osgood, who died at his house in West Eleventh-st. on [Wednesday morning last, took place yesterlay from St. Thomas's church, lat Fifth-ave. and Fifty-third-st. A congregation composed of many well-known men and women filled the fbody of the church. Among 'those present were Peter Cooper; William H. Lee; Henry Dexter; Frederick de Peyster; Edward C. Benedict; Joseph H. Choate; the Rev. Dr. Ewer; Rev. Dr. John Hall; the Rev. Dr. Brown; the Rev. Dr. Belows; and the Rev. Dr. Bevin. The members/of the executive committee of the Historical Society were present in a body and occupied seats near the front. There were also present members of the Union League Club.

Shortly after ten o'clock the remains were borne up the aisle of the church and placed near the chancel. The procession was led by Bishop Potter. Bishop Beckwith, of Georgia, the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. H. C. Potter, the Rev. Dr. Dyer, the Rev. Mr. Gallaudet, the Rev. Dr. Mc-Kim and the Rev. Dr. Price. They were followed by the pall bearers: the Rev. Dr. Dix, the Rev. Dr. Washburn, the Rev. Dr. Adams, the Rev. Dr. Farley, the Rev. Dr. Battler. Following the coffin came the friends of the deceased clergyman. The coffin was carved oak with raised brass handles. A brass plate on the lid in the form of a cross bore the inscription: "Samuel Osgood, Doctor in Divinity, born at Charlestown, Mass., August 30, 1812; died at New-York, N. Y., April 14, 1880," On the lid of the coffin was a heart of red and white flowers, a wreath of lilies, and two palm branches crossed. On the steps leading to the chancel were a number of floral designs. After the services, which were those of the Episcopal Church, the relations remained at the church until noon, when they proceeded to the Grand Central Station and took the one o'clock train for Fairfield, Connecticut. The remains were there interred in Oaklawn Cemetery.

THE CHARITY FAIR AT THE GARDEN.

THE CHARITY FAIR AT THE GARDEN.

The Habnemann Fair in the Madison Square Garden presented a delightful scene last night. There was a large attendance, and the handsome dresses of the ladies added much to the brilliancy of the effect.

Among the recently added attractions is a particularly repulsive horned toad, which may be subscribed for at the table of Mrs. Clark Bell. The floor committee is said to be in continual quest of flies with which to feed it. A $100 doll, with a trousecau and a supply of household furniture complete, is another addition. There is at this booth also a quilt made of 14,575 different pieces of cloth. The task of making it consumed eight years.

At Martha Brown's Grocery Store everything imagnable is offered, from churns to pickles. This is in charge of Mrs. Mortimer Brown. Mrs. Brooks's Rosa Bonheur, in oleomargarine, attracts much attention. "Annt Fauny" Barrow's fortune telling tent revals many attractions-even if the prophecies therein ultered are not wholly funstworthy. Miss Clara Barton and Miss Belle Malone are the presiding sybils. A nost-office has been established in this department. Mrs. W. O. Maedonald offers bric-a-brac and an array of dolls, and a selection of fine tapestries and embroideries at the Knickerbocker booth, together with some striking pottery of Portuguese manufacture. Mrs. Dowling and Mrs. Burdick, assisted by Mrs. J. R. Franklin. Mrs. J. Oakes and Mrs. Hertzel, at the Pansy booth, are conducting the contest of the colleges for the eight-eared shell. Yale stood at 146, with Columbia at 147, last night.

The Judges of the Court of Appeals have been invited to be present to-night, and the 7th Regiment will appear on Thursday evening. The sales of the tasteful little book called "The Charity Boom" have been encouragingly large.

Prominent among the objects of interest is the journal of the fair, a neat little newspaper called The Hahnemann, or News in Small Boses, which appears daily, and is conducted by Mrs. Frances W. Chesebro, who took charge of it at twenty FEARS OF A DELUGE IN MONTCLAIR.

Some fears are felt in Montclair, New-Jersey, lest a considerable body of water in the railroad tunnel in the mountain west of the village, should do serious damage. This tunnel was only partly cut through the northern spur of the Orange Mountain several years ago by the management of the New-York and Greenwood Lake Railroad. It was to extend about 1,500 feet, but after nearly 500 were excavated it was abandoned. The entrance is cut half-way up the mountain, a few rods away from Clairmont-ave., which leads directly over the mountain. Near this point, about a year ago, the timber supports in the tunnel gave way, and a pit was formed about sixty or seventy feet deep. This has filled with water from springs.

On Wednesday morning the residents near were aroused by a loud noise, and found that most of the water had forced its way out and was rushing down the cut. It is some distance below that the stream into which this water flows is obstructed by a dam, and the force of the flood was not enough to cause any harm to this. The pit began immediately to fill up again. Yesterday the water was within six inches of the top of the pit, which is about 200 feet across. It is thought the railroad company should clear out the tunnel and make it safe. It has also been proposed to utilize the water from the springs by building a reservoir and supplying the village.

In his rage he seized a handspike and with it struck another deck-hand, named Feeks, and broke his right arm just below the elbow. Feeks fell from the effects of the blow, and while he was down Guthrie struck him another violent blow on his head, fracturing his skull in a shocking manner. The injured man was removed to his home in Greenwich, Conn., where he lies in a precarious condition. In the meantime Guthrie field.

increase of $1 a thousand for hand work and 50 cents for rolling and bunch work. The men in this factory are governed by a society which has established in connection with their employers an arbitration committee composed of three cigarmakers, two packers, a foreman, and one of the firm. This committee will to-day consider the request for an advance and decide whether it is to be paid. In no event will there be a strike. The employes of Lichtenstein & Co. have asked for an increase of $1 a thousand for hand work, 50 cents for rolling and 25 cents for bunchwork. The Portland cement masons have decided to demand $3 a day after April 26 instead of the $2 50 which they now receive. They claim that their work is unhealthful and that their working season is as short as that of any class of workingmen, since the coming of frost ends it.

In Newark the casemakers of Simon & Brothers have received an dyance of ten per cent. The piece workers in the tr.ak manufactory of T. B. Peddin & Co. have obtained an advance of thirty per cent; the trunkmakers employed by W. O. POLYFORM.

Cynics say doctors are careful not to take their own medicine. The case of Professor Edison is the very reverse of this. Himself suffering from the excruciating pain of neuralgia, incident upon in-tense application of mind upon his other wonderful inventions, determined that the first duty to him "PHYSICIAN HEAL THYSELP."

Receiving no benefit from the many prescription, brought to his notice, he, with that practical method of doing things which is bound up with him, made experiments upon himself until he perfected a combination of essential medicinal extracts, which to bination of essential medicinal extracts, which to his intense gratification immediately relieved him from all his pain. Thinking, however, that what cured him might possibly not be adapted to all, he, by further experiments upon others, was at length convinced that his new discovery was a veritable pain destroyer in all cases of NEURALGIA, NERVOUS PAINS, HEADACHES,

ETC.
After much solicitation from eminent men and After much solicitation from eminent men and those of his friends to whom his discovery has been of wonderful service, he was persuaded to allow the preparation to be put up and sold for the benefit of the thousands of those who suffer menths and years of pain without obtaining the relief sought.

Professor Edison's name will shine with ever brighter lustre (if such a thing were possible) for giving to the innumerable army of sufferers a medicine which can be relied upon with certainty to cure their nervous pains.
In no sense does Professor Edison claim that POLYFORM is a "cure-all," but for the racking pains of neuralgia, no matter where situated, we firmly believe, that the evidence of all who have tried the remedy will subtantiate our statement, that
